

Windsor Lady Crippled From Bad Rheumatism

MRS. V. MILO.

CINOT is surely a family word in all New England. It has accomplished results that few even dared imagine, among them is Mrs. Milo who says: "I have had rheumatism and kidney trouble for six long years and was unable to walk around without the use of a cane. I saw an advertisement for CINOT in the paper and have given it a good, honest, fair trial and can now get around without the aid of my cane, eat heartily and sleep well and can truthfully say I am entirely well, don't have headaches or dizzy spells either that I used to have. I endorse CINOT heartily."

CINOT is being demonstrated in Norwich by an expert at the H. M. Leroy Drug Store, 293 Main St. It is also for sale in Danbury by W. E. LaBelle; in Mystic by the Wheeler's Drug Store; in Greenville Station, Norwich, by F. J. Plummer & Service; in Plainville by the Tattville Pharmacy; in Jewett City by Chas. H. Carey; in Central Village by H. Elmer Lewis; in Plainfield by the Mercier Pharmacy; in Baltic by the Baltic Pharmacy; in Mansup by J. W. Buckerman; in Danbury by Burroughs Pharmacy; in Putnam by Jas. F. Donahue; and can be obtained at all first class druggists.

NORWICH MAN FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

John W. Miller, 45 years of age of North High street, was arrested Saturday night by the local police on a charge of alleged mistreatment of Beatrice Greenwood, a seven year old girl. He is out on bonds of $300. Miller is married but his wife does not live with him.

The alleged offense is said to have taken place Saturday afternoon between 4 and 4:30 o'clock in Miller's house on North street. The seven year old girl was seen entering and leaving the house by a woman in the neighborhood and an investigation of the circumstances led to the arrest of Miller. The arrest was made by Officers Ralph Divito and Patrick Murphy after the child's mother had entered a complaint at police headquarters.

A man about 30 years of age who had been imbibing of home brew or some other concoction with a "kick" in it was found on the West Side in an unconscious condition about 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening by Officer John Dombroski. He was taken to the police station in the police patrol and his condition was such that Captain Desi Twomey thought it advisable to secure a doctor for him. He was later sent to the Backus hospital where he came to during the night. He will appear in the city court this (Monday) morning to answer to the charge of intoxication.

CLOSE WATCH FOR SACHARINE IN SODA
A close watch is being kept on the use of saccharine for sweetening soda water and bottled goods, which is in violation of the state law. At the office of the state dairy and food department, which has the enforcement of this law in hand, it was said Saturday that since violations of the law were discovered a short time ago the department's eye is kept peeled to bring them to account. If they are caught again. Recently Thomas P. Holt, state dairy and food commissioner, gave a hearing to about 40 soft drink manufacturers in Bridgeport, Waterbury and Hartford, all of whom were warned to stop using saccharine for sweetening purposes, and warning them that the practice must cease at once and that in subsequent cases of the discovery of violations of the law rigid prosecution would follow.

Saccharine is cheaper than sugar. It costs $3.50 a pound but it is 500 times as strong as sugar. Disobedience of the law is hard on bottlers who use sugar, because they cannot compete with saccharine users. The latter can sell bottled goods for 65 to 90 cents a case where its cost would be $1.25 to $1.40 with real sugar.

Saccharine is pronounced a drug, not a food, and has been declared harmful to health, which is alleged to have led to the enactment of the state law against its use.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY MEMBERS RECEIVE SACRAMENT
Over 400 men communicants received the sacraments in St. Mary's church at the 7:30 mass on Sunday morning under the banner of the Holy Name society. The usual low mass was read by the pastor, Rev. OBITUARY
George Weaver Rouse
George Weaver Rouse, for the past 25 years a resident of this city and a city sheriff for a number of terms, died early Saturday morning at his home here. Mr. Rouse had been in a critical condition for several days before his death and had been in failing health for several months. Mr. Rouse was afflicted with gall stones for a number of years and it was from this cause that death resulted.

He was descended from a long line of New England ancestors, his mother and father being of revolutionary ancestry. He was born in the town of Griswold on February 29, 1847, the son of Lathrop and Phyllis Geor Rouse and was one of seven children. His father was a lay preacher of Baptist faith and was a Whig in politics until the formation of the Republican party. Sheriff Rouse followed the teaching of his parent and has been of the Baptist faith and in politics was a Republican.

He received his early education in the school at Voluntown, his teachers being Caleb Potter and Henry T. Phillips, who were well known Norwich citizens. After completing his schooling he entered the employ of the Briggs family who conducted a cotton mill in Voluntown. When 16 years of age he gave up the mill business to accept the clerkship at the American House in Norwich which was conducted by Lamb and Newton. It was while in this employment that he enlisted in Company G, of the 12th regiment Connecticut Volunteers. With this company he served the Union in Georgia, Virginia and Louisiana later being stationed in Washington D. C. where he was in the line of duty during the assassination of President Lincoln took place and he was one of those who served as a guard around the city to prevent the escape of the assassin.

On August 12, 1865 he was discharged from the service in Georgia and returned to his home in Voluntown where he again entered the employ of the Briggs manufacturing company. After a short time he again gave up the mill business, this time to run a stage route between Voluntown and Westerly.

On July 24th, 1868, he was married in East Greenwich, R. I. to Miss Hattie Maynard. Three sons and one daughter were born of this union.

After Mr. Rouse sold his stage route he was clerk in a general store in Voluntown for a long time. It was owned by Timothy Parker & Co. Mr. Rouse was afflicted with illness for four months and upon his recovery of health he started a confectionery store. He was made postmaster under Harrison, then opening a large general store. Mr. Rouse took an active part in politics. He served as postmaster four years, represented Voluntown in the legislature in 1885, was doorkeeper in 1879 and had been a messenger.

In 1894 Mr. Rouse sold his business in Voluntown and moved to this city. Upon the death of Major D. J. Champ-in Sheriff Jackson placed Mr. Rouse in charge of the local jail and he filled the position until the appointment of the late John A. Bowne by Sheriff Brown.

Mr. Rouse had been elected city sheriff a number of times and was filling the office at his death. He often had charge of juries in the courts and did much business for the lawyers of the county as a bail officer. He also had been an auctioneer.

Mr. Rouse was a member of Mount Vernon Lodge, F. & A. M. of Jewett City and Byron D. Smith Post, No. 45, 45 years he was its commander. He also was a member of the Grand Lodge of the F. & A. M. of Voluntown. For eight he had held all the offices in the post. Mr. Rouse Mr. Rouse joined Narragansett Lodge, No. 7, I. O. O. F. at Westerly, September 1873. He was a member of the Norwich West of Ows and the Army and Navy and the City Bible class of the Central Baptist church and had been a member of other local organizations.

His wife died on May 18, 1916, and he is survived by three sons: H. E. Rouse, M. D., Shamrock, R. I., George W. Rouse, Jr., of Quincy, Mass., Clifford A. Rouse of Shannock, R. I., and who served in France in the world war, and a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Pierce of Norwich. There is a sister Mrs. William Warren of Taftville.
